

Winair plans to cut routes

Thursday, 05 March 2009

The economic climate is being felt by the local airline Winair (Windward Island Airways) and therefore it is planning to cut routes which will result in cutting 14 jobs at the local airline. Not only this, this will also mean less tourists from the neighbouring islands that come here to do their shopping